MACKIN COUNCIL.

John McQuese on Work the Vincentians Have Done.

The members of Mackin Council were well repaid for venturing out Tuesday night when they heard the excellent address delivered by John McQuese, of St. Cecilia's Conference, on the work the St. Vincent de Paul Society has been doing here and elsewhere. And the speaker must have felt gratified at the large gathering that greeted him, for he spoke with earnestness and impressed his audience with what he had to say. Mr. McQuese detailed at some length the methods of the Vincentians, who visit the poor and distressed and in an unostentatious but practical manner dispense an immense amount of charity and relieve untold distress.

President Sand presided and announced that four members were on the sick list, but fortunately none were in a serious condition. Another application was received and will be added to the list that will be initiated on February 21. The committee arranging for the coming opera to be given this spring reported satisfactory progress being made. Further time was given the committee having charge of the annual outing, as they were waiting to hear from the different park managements before naming the date and place. After next week's concert will meet on Monday night during Lent, as has been the custom for many years.

FATHER BLENKE

Bequeathed His Modest Fortune For Church and Charity.

The will of the late Father Joseph A. Blenke, whose death was noted in a former issue, was filed for probate last Saturday in the Kenton County Court at Covington, and awards many bequests to churches and charities. Aside from the bequests to his brother priests and to Sister Anna, who is made the chief beneficiary in the will, the largest bequest is to his friend, the Rev. Father J. B. Reiter, of Latonia, to whom is willed the dead prelate's patent on the electric cross on St. Aloysius' church. Father Reiter is named as executor without bond. To St. Aloysius' church is willed $1,000, and his books and library are bequeathed to the mission at Richmond. Eight hundred dollars is willed to Bishop Maes, to be applied to the education of young men for the priesthood, and an additional $300 is set aside for masses for the repose of Father Blenke's soul, to be recited in St. Aloysius' church.

PROVE FATAL.

Patrick J. Hines, aged fifty-four years, who was struck by a train on Friday of last week near the Big Four bridge, died from his injuries Tuesday afternoon at the home of his sister, 1574 William street. Hines was walking on one track and in stepping aside to allow a train to pass, was struck by an engine on another track. He was hurled twenty feet. His leg was broken, several ribs were fractured and he received internal injuries. Hines leaves a wife and several children.

NOTRE DAME FIRST.

Notre Dame University has secured another notable victory. With an eloquent defense of the Florentine monk, Savonarola, delivered in a masterful manner and with clear-cut, forceful words, Edward F. O'Flynn carried away for Notre Dame University first honors in the annual contest of the Indiana State Oratorical Association in Tomlinson Hall at Indianapolis last Friday night.

The Catholic champion made a profound impression on the hundreds of visitors with his opening words and his superiority over most of the remaining speakers left little doubt of the decision of the judges. O'Flynn's oration concerned itself chiefly with the work of the monk and with a refutation of heresy charges brought against him.

JUDGE FITZGERALD.

Couched in beautiful language which introduced the romantic atmosphere of Florence the beautiful, the oration was an admirable composition, and under O'Flynn's eloquent became most convincing. General approval was expressed concerning the decision of the judges. O'Flynn is a bright and promising intelligent youth, whose home is in Butte, Mont. His father is a miner there, and with him the son has worked during the vacations while making his way through the great Catholic University. He will be graduated next June.

The Distinguished Jurist of Court Sitting in Thaw Case.

Justice James Fitzgerald, who presides over the court in which Harry K. Thaw was brought to trial for the killing of Stanford White, is reputed one of the ablest and most impartial jurists of the Supreme Court of New York State. He has been said to resemble ex-President Grover Cleveland, or rather to look a good deal as the latter did about the time he was Governor of the State of New York. Judge Fitzgerald was born in County Limerick, Ireland, in 1851, and came to this country with his parents in early boyhood. His schooling began in the old country at a Jesuit institution and was continued in America at the De La Salle Institute and in the public schools of New York city. He also attended Cooper Institute. He was elected a member of the New York State Assembly in 1875 and, having in the meantime taken up the study of law, was graduated in 1880 from the Columbia College law school, where he sat under the instruction of the celebrated Prof. Dwight. He was promoted from the Assembly to the Legislature and in 1889 was elected to the bench of the Court of General Sessions. He became a Justice of the State Supreme Court in 1898.

AMUSEMENTS.

Three splendid attractions are announced for next week at Macauley's. Luder's comic opera success, "The Grand Mogul," with Frank Moulton and the balance of the original company, comes first for three performances. Wednesday night the famous San Carlo Opera Company will be heard in the "Barber of Seville" with Alice Neilson and Sig. Campanari taking the principal roles. Beginning Thursday night and for the rest of the week Louis James will appear in his old role of Falstaff in "The Merry Wives of Windsor."

Among the several vaudeville acts announced for next week at the Hopkins are the Zazell and Vernon Company in pantomime; Rader Bros. and the Sunbeams, in a singing specialty; the Four Emperors of Music; Elizabeth Murray, a singing comedienne; Charles Harris, a song and dance comedian, and several others, together with new kinodrome pictures. The bill will include some entirely new and novel turns.

A genuine treat is in store for lovers of vaudeville at the Buckingham next week. Cunning the jail breaker comes for another engagement and the Star Show Girls will offer a two-act comedy of mirth and melody. New specialties and hand-some scenery are also promised, which will attract filled houses.

"Under Southern Skies" will be the attraction all of next week at the Masonic, with the usual matinees on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. The star in this play is Miss Virginia Pearson, a Louisville young woman who made her stage debut about two years ago.

AMERICAN FAVORED.

An Associated Press dispatch says that William E. Cook, of Independence, Iowa, has been signally honored by Pope Pius, who has consented to give the painter sittings for a portrait. Cook will be the first American to paint a picture of His Holiness.

WEDS IN OHIO.

Romantic Ending of Louisville Girl's Short Visit to Columbus.

The following dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, was received here with interest Wednesday evening: After an acquaintance of only two months, Dr. Joseph A. Thone and Miss Rosalind Wilson were united in marriage in St. Mary's church at 7:30 o'clock this morning. Miss Wilson's home is in Louisville, and it was while visiting at the residence of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jacques, 180 Reinhard avenue, that she met her husband-to-be. Officiating at the marriage was Monsignor Specht, who celebrated high mass. In the sanctuary were Rev. Father Dunne, who acted as deacon, and Rev. Father Berkeley, subdeacon. Fathers Dunne and Berkeley were former classmates of the bridegroom. The bride wore a gown of pear gray with trimmings of Irish point lace. Miss Maria Thone, the bridegroom's sister, was maid of honor. Following the ceremony there was a wedding breakfast at the home of the uncle and aunt of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Jacques. Soon afterward Dr. and Mrs. Thone left for Old Point Comfort. Upon their return to Columbus they will take up their residence with Mr. and Mrs. Jacques until their own new home now in process of erection is completed. Miss Wilson was educated in the Presentation Academy in Louisville. Among the beautiful wedding presents received by the bride was a large chest filled with silver from her grandmother, Mrs. Caswell, of Louisville.

SOCIAL AND SUPPER

For Benefit of St. George's Church Next Monday and Tuesday.

A Shrove-tide social and supper will be given under the auspices of St. George's parish next Monday and Tuesday afternoon and evenings at the school hall, Eighteenth and Magnolia streets. The famous rosebud dress which was won by Rev. Father Weiss, at the Good Shepherd bazaar, will be disposed of at this social and it will be on exhibition both evenings. There will be an afternoon session both days for the children, who will be admitted free. Tickets are now on sale and can be obtained from members of the congregation for twenty-five cents each, which entitles holder to admission and supper. The proceeds will be donated to St. George's church building fund, and the committee in charge expect a large attendance to assist them in their worthy object.

FORTUNE HONORED.

Capt. James W. Fortune, one of the ablest lawyers in Southern Indiana and well known throughout the State, was the recipient of marked honors Tuesday night at the Elks' tenth anniversary celebration in Jeffersonville. Capt. Fortune was the first Exalted Ruler of the Jeffersonville lodge and afterward District Deputy. After the regular meeting there was a banquet, when Capt. Fortune was presented with a life membership and also a magnificent gold card. His popularity, eloquence and constant devotion well earned for him the deserved honor from his antlered brethren.

WAS A SUCCESS.

Trinity Council's eucure and dance last Monday evening was a splendid success in spite of the very inclement weather of that night. At the meeting on Tuesday Chairman Ed Wulf, of the entertainment committee, reported that there were over sixty tables in operation at the eucure and a larger number at the dance that followed. The sick committee reported George Preiffer, Henry Stoecker, Herman Resch and A. Amshoff on the sick list. Only a short business session was held on account of a great many members being fatigued from their social whirl the previous evening.
